

Welcome to the Washington Research Library Consortium

Congratulations on your new position and welcome to the WRLC community!

The WRLC is a non-profit corporation founded in 1987 by universities in the DC area. We enable the success of learning and scholarship by creating coordinated collections, creating a robust infrastructure for discovery and access, ensuring the long-term preservation of physical and digital information resources and sharing expertise.

What We Offer

More than 22 million resources are available through the WRLC Shared Catalog.

Instant access to full text journal articles, digital collections, ETDs, and more!

The WRLC Shared Collections Facility is home to 3.1 million physical volumes and 62,000 archival boxes belonging to our nine university partners.

The Consortium Loan Service offers quick delivery of materials between the libraries. In fact, one in five books borrowed comes from one of the partner libraries.
